Creating an Environment for Successful Projects

A 2-Day Hands-On Workshop

Workshop Overview: This interactive workshop focuses on the essentials for cultivating a robust, purpose-driven project environment. Managers and those aspiring to be managers will gain essential insights and tools necessary to foster a project management atmosphere that is crucial for the success of any project. This workshop provides detailed guidance on what is required from key managers to gain the backing of senior management, clients, and team members.

Who Should Attend: This workshop is tailored for all personnel within government sectors who oversee, or will soon oversee, demanding projects. It represents a valuable chance to gain insights and prepare effectively.

Subjects Covered in this Workshop:

- Establish strategic priorities to guarantee project success.
- Select the appropriate manager or management team to lead the project.
- Formulate a team charter, and articulate a clear project vision and mission statement, alongside a communication strategy to promote the project.
- Utilize motivation theory to craft a bespoke approach to management and leadership.
- Align organizational objectives with the capabilities of the organization.
- Encourage a culture that embraces continuous learning.
- Deliver project strategies with genuine conviction and honesty.
- Implement Group Development Stages (GDS) for adapting management and leadership styles to suit the specific needs, environment, and resources available.
